

Can I Fail?

Scripture: John 21: 1-17, 19

Date: May 3, 2020

FAIL TO FOLLOW

PERSPECTIVE

The world in which we live is weary and hard - filled with much brokenness amidst failure by culture upon us through no fault of our own. Yet at the same time – there remains a part of the failure due to our own pride, arrogance and desires to control our own world.

REFLECTIONS

Where in your life has the world crashed into you causing pain and suffering?

Where in your world have you crashed into pain and suffering through your words, your actions, your attitude?

PERSPECTIVE

In this dark and dreary world of sin and suffering of loneliness and lostness and helpless and hopelessness – God still is, God still speaks and God still does. Failure is not fatal or final and God's love reaches out to redeem and restore. Jesus engaged Peter in his name, in their fellowship and through questions and conversation. Jesus directed Peter into an offer of love and service.

REFLECTIONS

What in this world clamour for your priority over loving Jesus?

Where in this world are you a sheep needing nurture and nourishment?

Where in your world are their sheep needing nurture and nourishment from you?
