

Lent Wonderings – Huh?

Scripture: Isaiah 40: 21-26

Date: March 28, 2021

PONDERING

TEACHING

There are many examples – in the bible and in our churches – of people wondering if the whole God experience is real and true. If God really does have the authority to be creator and God above all. If God really does have the responsibility to be King and ruler over all. In addition does this God have the capacity to not only deal with all things great but care for all things small. Does this God truly love and care for us?

REFLECTIONS

What causes you to ponder / wonder as truth about God in your faith life?

What have been the results of your wondering / pondering in your secular / sacred life?

POSSIBILITY

TEACHING

Pondering / wondering are not bad things – they are merely opportunities for us to reflect and absorb who God is and who we are to God. That hunger for God often reveals God's help for us. He asks us questions and He proclaims back to our questions. God is revealed as the only one capable to answer our questions and is willing – in love and grace – to do just that !

REFLECTIONS

Where has God proclaimed / revealed Himself to you in your faith and life?

How has that proclamation impacted your secular / sacred life?
